

March 18, 2020

At Kelowna Yacht Club, the health and safety of our community remains our number one priority and is of vital importance. With that in mind, and in light of the actively changing circumstances surrounding the COVID-19 outbreak, we have come to the difficult conclusion that the Kelowna Boat Show scheduled on April 25 & 26 will not be able to go forward. While we continue to monitor the situation as it evolves, we have not currently ruled out the possibility of postponing or rescheduling the event for a later date. As we navigate through this difficult situation, we will continue to communicate with you regarding any updates to the show schedule or of any further information.

A full refund will be provided to the exhibitors who have already completed their application payments and a member of our team will be reaching out to you over the next few days.

We feel strongly that this is an important event for the community and City of Kelowna, and although we do not want to rule out all options at this time, we are focused on ensuring that we do not jeopardize the health and well-being of our colleagues, volunteers, exhibitors and community.

We would like to take a moment to thank you for your continued support of the Kelowna Boat Show over the past 24 years, and we look forward to connecting with you and planning great events in the future.

If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to us at any time.

Wishing you good health,

Kelowna Boat Show Committee